Dear Science Students:

Here are some upcoming events and activities in the College of Science.

Fall semester finishing strong!

Clemson scientists measure all of the starlight ever produced by the observable universe

Musical theater production inspires marine conservation awareness for Upstate locals

As today’s student leaders, Clemson’s ODK members are forging the future

Student leaders help recruit best and brightest

Michigan team tours Clemson SCALE-UP classroom

Teachers and administrators from Rockford, Michigan, toured Clemson’s SCALE-UP classroom in the Cooper Library on Friday, Dec. 7. The team traveled more than 800 miles to see firsthand how Clemson’s SCALE-UP classroom is reshaping instruction for its students in hopes of applying the active-learning model to its own SCALE-UP classroom.

Doctoral Hooding, Fall graduation on Dec. 19-20

Clemson university invites you to participate in our service events on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, 2018. The University will hold two graduation ceremonies for its seven colleges – at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Dec. 20 – each lasting about two hours apiece. The College of Science ceremony will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Dec. 20 in Littlejohn Coliseum, where SCIENCE expects to award 87 bachelor’s degrees, 10 master’s degrees and four doctoral degrees. In addition, 28 Ph.D. degrees will be awarded in the separate Doctoral Hooding ceremony at 3 p.m. in the Brooks Center.

Munira A. 2018 ECE Student Barton lectures on “car to car communication” in the College of Science on Friday, Dec. 1. The next lecture in the MSA series will feature Outstanding Clemson Engineer, Dr. Michael King who will present “toxicology and the biogas industry.”

Our College leaders are spotlighted in the December issue of The Review: SCIENCE.

Serve as a Student Advisor in the College of Science

Meet our 2018-19 SCIENCE Student Ambassadors (in orange) and 2018 COSMIC Science Peer Support Mentors (in purple). Together, these student leaders serve our prospective students, as well as current underrepresented freshmen in SCIENCE. If you see them in the halls, at recruiting events, or out and about on campus, feel free to thank them for a job well done.
