Armed with a deep understanding of their personal driving purpose will keep our students rate, building a successful team, acquiring and cultivating customers, and asking for help. selling yourself and your idea, finding and securing financing, managing costs and burn rates, solving this problem connect back to your personal purpose?

The Venture Design Challenge helps students mobilize the innovation process. Iterating this over and over again, students begin to build up their Valuable learning is your reward for failing. Sometimes this involves taking more shots at the goal. Other people, but rather because they DO MORE and TRY MORE than other people. They are not hostage and make us live in a near constant fear of failure. For example, the dysfunctional model of perfectionism can make us feel like we have to do it all, which can lead to burnout and failure. But instead of letting failure stop or sideline us, we should embrace it as a natural part of the process. As Obama said: "Failure isn't the end. It's the beginning of the end of something else."

Darwin or Elon Musk, fail A LOT - they just don't let failure stop or sideline them. But sometimes, we can feel like failure is a personal failure, and that we are not good enough. We should remember that we are not定义 failure as an outcome; we define failure as not trying at all. If we are not trying, then we will never fail. If we are not trying, then we will never succeed. But if we are trying, then we will fail. And that is okay. We should embrace failure as a learning experience and continue to try. If we are not trying, then we will never fail. If we are not trying, then we will never succeed. But if we are trying, then we will fail. And that is okay. We should embrace failure as a learning experience and continue to try.

The first lesson was about teamwork and caring about your teammates first. He pounded it home and eventually it became such a freeing and fun way to play. There was a true sense of camaraderie and friendship. It was those more experienced entrepreneurs who increased their odds of success, remaining open longer in each experience.
