To turn off Google Chrome's Autofill feature:

1. In Google Chrome, go to Settings by clicking on the three dots in the top right corner of the browser.
2. Scroll down and select "Advanced".
3. Click on "Privacy and security".
4. Under the "Google Services" section, uncheck "Autofill".

The Autofill feature will display values to facilitate data entry into Concur. To disable this feature, follow the steps above.

In Oracle Procurement, the taxability of your order is determined by the purchasing category and certain checkboxes in the distribution section (such as the checkbox next to "Taxable"). You can read more about the taxability of different purchasing categories and how tax is determined on the Purchasing & Accounts Payables website.

Purchasing as a result of grants will be covered at the next discussion. However, you may notice that the taxability of your order in Oracle Procurement might show incorrect values due to the nature of the award.

In the current P2P landscape, our ability to keep the cost and budget correct is critical to the financial integrity of the award. Our goal is to deliver timely information that is accurate and relevant to our users. Your feedback is appreciated and will be evaluated as we move forward with improvements to the systems and processes.
