This newsletter aims to connect members of the Mason community with opportunities to engage with sustainability-focused events. Mason’s Office of Graduate Education (OGE) is supporting a Transdisciplinary Graduate Fellowship Program to promote projects on community resilience and sustainability. Fellows will receive additional stipends and opportunities to publish and present their work. The Program offers several benefits, such as increased research productivity and visibility. The following seminars are also available:

1. Understanding the war in Ukraine
   - Tuesday, June 7, 2022, 2:00 pm ET on Zoom
   - Speaker: Karina V. Korostelina

2. The Place-Based Circular Economy: The Story of Northern Virginia
   - Thursday, June 16, 2022, 12 pm - 1:30 pm ET
   - Registration

These events aim to provide insights into global issues and local impacts, promoting interdisciplinary collaboration and engagement with sustainability topics.
