Perfect in every way

On route toocrush 2018-19 academic year, you should have received an email requesting that you complete a Student Profile and a handwritten Thank You Note. Please check.

Some of you benefit from a scholarship or fellowship established by a gift to the University. If you are one of these recipients for the 2018-19 academic year, you should have received an email

Scholarship and fellowship recipients

Clemson researchers work with citizen-scientists to better understand diversity of rattlesnake venom

The Mojave rattlesnakes that live in the deserts of southwestern United States and central Mexico are packed with lethal venom, though they rarely strike unless provoked. Image courtesy of Travis Fisher

Perfomance by Clemson researchers at the 2019 College of Science Research Day promotes professional development for Science students

The College of Science is piloting a new seminar series in spring 2019 intended to equip SCIENCE undergraduate and graduate students with the professional development skills they will need to succeed. The College of Science has partnered with the Career Center, the Office of Student Life, the doctoral program in Education Research and the Student Life office of Campus Engagement and Civic Engagement to deliver this series.

New lecture series promotes professional development to SCIENCE students